VOICE FROM EXHIBITORS

Mr Hou Ruihua
Sales manager from Wefang Hicred Machinery Co., Ltd

Actually, for this exhibition, so far we have attended for many time, I think at least three time. I think this exhibition is especial and specialized and we are happy to attend this exhibition

Mr Lee
from Yunda Paper Machinery

This exhibition is very good, has a lot of customers from the North to the South come here. And some are old and some we can get the new information and anyways we get a lot of information. Very good for us

In 2019, the total production of paper in Vietnam is 4.43 million tons, which 20% higher compares to 2018. Thanks to the extraordinary effort of the Vietnam government on fighting COVID 19, Vietnam remains a safe point for business and investment. Thus, the Paper industry in Vietnam has shown positive signals in the first half of 2020. Paper production is estimated at an output of 1.85 million tons, growing 7.8%; paper exports reached 656.9 thousand tons, up 97.4%; paper imports reached 853.1 thousand tons, an increase of 7.8% compared to the same period in the first five months of 2019. In the rest of this year, the industry forecasted to continue growing with two manufacturing complex are expected to put into production with a capacity of 450,000 tons/year.

The Paper industry is considered a pioneer in the recycling business in Vietnam. As now, the paper recycling rate in Vietnam is still low, which is under 50%. The Government has enacted policies in order to minimize industrial waste and maximize recycling.
